Three MSD Wayne staff members honored for service to students with special needs

The Indiana Council for Exceptional Children has recognized two administrators and a student resource officer in MSD Wayne.

"We're proud of these Wayne staff members, and all in our community who serve our students with special needs," said MSD of Wayne Township Superintendent Jeff Butts.

MSD Wayne also recognizes individuals who serve students with special needs in its annual Dare to Dream Awards Ceremony, held this year on March 10. This unique event is designed to celebrate individuals with disabilities whose accomplishments stand out and Wayne community members who help to make these accomplishments possible. March is Disability Awareness Month in the state of Indiana.
